99.1 ASX Announcement, dated August 1, 2023 – Incannex Provides Access to Advisory Firm for Redomicile

Date: August 01, 2023
Public Announcement (NASDAQ: IXHL) (ASX: IHL)

Incannex Provides Access to Financial Advisory Firm to Shareholders for Advice Pertaining to Transition from ASX to Nasdaq

Melbourne, Australia, 01 August 2023 - Incannex Healthcare Limited (NASDAQ: IXHL) (ASX: IHL), ('Incannex', 'IHL' or the 'Company') is pleased to announce that it has engaged independent financial planning firm MLS Financial ('MLS') to provide advice to IHL shareholders with self-managed superannuation funds ('SMSF'), a superannuation fund holding or similar products, on matters associated with the proposed uplisting to U.S. shares on the Nasdaq and delisting of Australian shares on ASX.

The purpose of this unprecedented engagement is to assist shareholders who have their IHL shareholding in a superannuation account. Engaging MLS will ensure that shareholders receive qualified independent, and strictly confidential advice that takes into consideration all factors that contribute to the account holder's financial position.

Throughout the process, MLS will analyse the shareholder's current position and provide support and recommendations on the best strategy for the holder, whilst having a complete understanding of the process Incannex is taking to transition the Company's share listing from ASX to Nasdaq.

We encourage all shareholders who are seeking either clarity or advice on their IHL holding within a superannuation structure to email admin@incannex.com.au. Please include the name and address of your registered holding and Incannex staff will facilitate an introduction to MLS who will initiate a confidential meeting with the shareholder to provide support leading into, during and post the proposed transition to U.S. domiciled shares on the Nasdaq.

CEO and managing director of Incannex, Mr Joel Latham said; "Incannex is proposing to redomicile to the United States and Nasdaq in a unanimous board decision taken in the best interest of shareholders to unlock the substantial value in our Company. At the time that Incannex proposed the change from ASX to Nasdaq, the Board committed that it would do all that it could to ensure a seamless transition of their investment from Australia to the United States. Incannex shareholders who feel as if they would benefit from this service, will receive independent advice from a financial group that is fully understanding of the change Incannex is making and will also learn how best to advise each shareholder independently in light of this change. On that basis, we encourage those shareholders to seek the confidential and independent superannuation advice that the Company offers."

This announcement has been approved for release to ASX by the Incannex Board of Directors.
